Commitments

Our role in your wedding is so much more than a place and a pastor. We desire to help disciple you through this season of your life and assist you in worshipping your God in the midst. With that perspective, we ask that you be willing to commit with us to a God-honoring engagement and wedding – a time of true worship. In order for a Summit Point Pastor to come alongside you in this wedding, we ask you to commit to the following:

- We both commit to patiently walk through this time of engagement, loving one another
- We both commit to take Summit Point's premarital class together

To register for Summit Point's premarital study, visit our website at summitpoint.org.

If you plan to receive additional premarital counseling through a different source than Summit Point, please provide the pastor's name and contact information.

- We both commit to not live together prior to the wedding

We recognize that due to financial or relational stresses, moving in together before the wedding is often a solution proposed today. Our passion is not to be pragmatic, but powerfully worshipful and obedient to our God. We have assisted many couples in separating for a short season and making the wedding day an awesome celebration of a God-honoring love for one another.

Please join with us on this possibly difficult, yet extremely rewarding commitment. If you have any questions, we would love to speak further with you on this topic.

- We both commit to physical purity before the wedding
